Kennedy Tells F. D. Of Europe

HYDE PARK, N. Y. June 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt shirted briefly today from the clean-up work after a session of Congress to an important discussion of what's going on in Europe.

Joseph P. Kennedy, home from his ambassador's post in London, was the chief figure on the Chief Executive's engagement list.

The terse White House disclosure that Kennedy would head for the presidential study on his second day back in this country gave no hint of what course the conversation would take.

Persons close to the situation, however, expected the President

Greece Shaken By Heavy Quake

ATHENS, June 21 (AP)—A severe earthquake shook parts of Greece today. Old buildings collapsed at Galaxidi, on the Gulf of Corinth, 100 miles west-northwest of Athens.

South Paris, Me., June 21—Heavily shackled and white with prison pallor, 18-year-old "lifer," Paul M. Dwyer, was brought into Oxford county courthouse today to tell a new version of the slaying of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Littlefield.

Authorities predicted his testimony before the grand jury would name a prominent citizen of the county and would describe a role allegedly played by that citizen in the "Tour of Death Killing" for which Dwyer was sentenced.

The boy lifer was led into the courthouse by Deputy Irving Thompson of Thomaston State Prison.

A stout belt was locked around Dwyer's waist. Through a steel ring, attached to this belt, was passed a short chain, connected with the handcuffs clasped on the prisoner's wrists.

What promised to be the first real heat wave of the season marked summer's official arrival in Boston today.

From an early morning 66, the mercury had soared to 91 degrees by 1 o'clock, the hottest day of the year.

Forecasters said it might pass 95 to set a new record for the date.

As the astronomers figured it, summer wasn't actually due here until 10:40 p. m.

But the advance sample seemed highly satisfactory and started an all-day public trek to beaches and lake resorts.

Witness

Barbara Carroll, named by Paul Dwyer of South Paris, Me., as his sweetheart, is listed as one of 12 witnesses to be called at the reopening of investigation in the double killing of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Littlefield.

Pope Depressed By Nazi Situation

ROME, June 21 (INS)—Pope Pius is exceedingly depressed over the Nazi-church situation, Monsignor Waitz, archbishop of Salzburg, declared today after an interview with the Pontiff at Castel Gandolfo.

The prelate said he found the Pope physically weak as well as low in spirits. He described his interview as "extremely melancholy."

Behind Berlin Scenes

Jew Purge Aim Clear

BERLIN, June 21 (AP)—Stung by eye-witness reports in American and other foreign newspapers, the German press today broke its silence on the anti-Semitic drive which seems aimed at purging Berlin of its 140,000 Jews.

A scornful editorial in the leading Nazi organ, Reichsfuehrer Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter, sought to justify the drive as an "act of self-defense by the people against Jews who are swamping Berlin, especially from Austria."

Although the drive begun June 1 continued, the Ministry of Economy exempted foreign Jews living abroad from property registration regulations which the United States had protested.

New regulations also relaxed the rules as they apply to German Jews living abroad. The registration period was extended from June 30 to July 31 for those living elsewhere in Europe and to October 30 for German Jews residing outside Europe.

"Paradoxical though it may seem," the Beobachter declared, "the louder the foreign press has railed about anti-Jewish persecutions, the more the Jews have wanted to come here."

"It is the material prosperity of the Reich that attracts them and makes them submit willingly to any restrictions placed upon them."

The Beobachter charged the new influx consisted primarily of "smugglers of drugs and currencies, counterfeiters and professional swindlers." It accused the Jews also of "behaving with intolerable impertinence" to Aryan women and girls.

The Berliner Boersen-Zeitung said the number of Jews had increased by more than 10,000 within the past year in Berlin alone.

The Beobachter also recalled allegedly forcible expulsions of Germans from Alsace-Lorraine in 1920 after France annexed the region.

"We never yet have told Jews to get out at 24 hours' notice with a hundredweight of personal property, as the French did with Germans of Alsace-Lorraine," Hitler's paper exclaimed.

Where Death Is Only Winner

London Parley Spurs Peace

Spain War Nears End

By KINGSBURY SMITH

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 21—For the first time since the Spanish civil war flared out of a political assassination into a holocaust almost two years ago, nations of Europe embarked upon a concerted and apparently sincere attempt today to bring a quick end to hostilities.

Members of a subcommittee of the international non-intervention committee reached agreement on a "majority of points" in the British compromise plan for withdrawal of foreign volunteers.

At the same moment the French-Spanish border was closed, cutting off for the first time the supplies of arms and ammunitions which have passed through French territory for the government side in Spain.

ANGLO-ITALIAN FACT

With obvious gratification, a Whitehall spokesman declared the government was satisfied that France's Spanish frontier is "now effectively closed" to passage of all arms.

Many factors were believed responsible for the sudden international determination to end or at least localize the conflict.

One was the desire of Great Britain and Italy to make effective the Anglo-Italian understanding in April. Great Britain has made this contingent upon withdrawal of Italian volunteers from Spain.

Another was said to be the increasingly grave economic situation in Italy. A poor harvest has aggravated Mussolini's need for foreign credits, and for these he will be unable to appeal to London until the Anglo-Italian peace pact has gone into effect.

RUSSIA AGREES

Russia, it was learned has agreed to the British plan, thus paving the way for a full agreement by tonight unless unforeseen difficulties arise.

Samuel Kagan, Soviet delegate, told the committee that his government regards the British plan as tending generally to favor the Spanish Insurgents. But, he said, in the spirit of concession and in order not to stand in the way of solution of the problem, Russia is willing to accept it.

Britain was reported ready to mediate to bring about a truce.

Spain Reds' Gun Supply Cut Off

PARIS, June 21 (INS)—The steady stream of motor vans which carried arms, ammunition and medical supplies across the French-Spanish frontier for the government side in Spain since the conflict began two years ago was stopped completely today.

French officials insisted no official action had been taken, declaring border control had been complete and effective since last fall when foreign aid to the government side was ostensibly cut off. But frontier sources which recently reported daily caravans of huge vans en route to Spain declared the traffic ceased "mysteriously and inexplicably" only 48 hours ago.

If such control of the border is made effective and permanent, observers here believe, the Spanish civil war will be of short duration. They are of the opinion the government side cannot last a month without new supplies.

Jap Bombs Hit U. S. Property

HONGKONG, June 21 (AP)—Eighteen Japanese air raiders, it was reported today, bombed property of the American-owned Texas Oil Company in an attack on Wu-chow, in Kwangsi province.

One bomb, it was said, fell in the Texas Company's grounds, another on property of the British-owned Asiatic Petroleum Company, and three others barely missed Standard Oil Company grounds, near a Chinese air field.

Duel for Darrieux

Film Star's Smile Inspires Elusive Drama

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., June 21—A contemplated duel "to the death" between two boys fresh out of high school, in which a petite French film star 3000 miles away in Hollywood is the motivating factor, today furnished this community with its liveliest interest in months.

Principals in the affaire d'honneur were reported missing from their respective homes Sunday night, giving rise to fear they had chosen a secluded spot for their combat after police had placed a guard at the original dueling site. They showed up later, however.

It all began when the boys went light-heartedly to a movie to view Danielle Darrieux in her starring vehicle "Mayerling."

One was enthralled. He wrote for an autographed photograph of his latest film idol. The other, scornful such distant worship, taunted his friend unmercifully.

The photograph arrived. The recipient fondled it lovingly. His pal said "Aw, nuts!" or words to that effect, and tore the picture in two. Followed action in which one slapped his friend and the other retaliated.

Friends intervened, but not before one boy had issued an ultimatum, which was pistols at dawn, the old Christian cemetery the locale. The other accepted.

The local police got wind of the affair and decreed that no blood should be spilt. They posted a guard at the cemetery and foiled White River Junction's spectacle.

Friends of the pair, however, declare that simple action will not appease the wrath of either. They were hoping, however, that the threat of an irate father—"I'll duel him . . . in the pants"—would bring about a less gory ending to the episode.

Tagged Boy To Fly 2400 Miles

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 21 (AP)—A six-year-old boy, with a huge shipping label around his neck, today left here for an unaccompanied airline trip to San Juan, P. R.

The lad, Lucian S. Haugwitz, was to begin his 2400-mile hegira formally at Boston, where he will board an airliner for Newark. At the New Jersey terminal he will change for an overnight plane for Miami. A Pan-American clipper ship will whisk him to Puerto Rico by 5 o'clock tomorrow evening—less than 24 hours later.

The shipping label sets forth, among other items, that Lucian is "amenable to any kind of diet except scrambled eggs" and "likely to sleep in any position."

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ping Ferry said he would visit relatives on an island.

Hurley's Plan Wins New O. K.

For the second time in as many days, the proposal of Governor Hurley to suspend employee contributions to the State Unemployment Compensation Commission received strong support.

The Senate Ways and Means committee today recommended adoption of the measure for a trial period of a year, beginning July 1. At the same time, the committee urged the appointment of a special recess commission to study the unemployment compensation plan, with a view to the possibility of total abolition of employee contributions.

Governor Hurley, in a special message to the Legislature last week, recommended ending employee contributions permanently, and a few days ago State Treasurer William E. Hurley supported the recommendation.

Question 2 In West On Killing Here

Somerville police today began a round-up of witnesses to the murder of William Phillips, 54-year-old storekeeper, on May 31 by two gunmen, following a report from Salt Lake City police that they had in custody two Boston youths, one of whom had in his possession a newspaper clipping describing the crime.

Lieutenant Daniel M. O'Connell of Somerville talked by long distance with the Salt Lake authorities, obtained a description of the two under arrest and data concerning two pistols allegedly found on them.

MEDFORD CLUE

Captain Van Amburgh, state ballistics expert, has the two bullets which caused the death of Phillips. He was called into conference by Chief of Police Thomas Damery of Somerville to study the information received by O'Connell from Utah.

At the same time Medford police sought further identification of the youths when Salt Lake officers wired them that on one of the youths was found an automobile registration certificate bearing the name of Edward P. Churchill of Albion street, Medford.

The two men gave their names to Salt Lake police as Walter Scott, 22, and Henry Richards, 21.

Richards is alleged to have also given the name of C. M. Benedict, Jr. They were apprehended in an auto allegedly stolen in Medford on June 9 and each had a pistol when searched, Utah police said.

LINKED TO HOLDUP

Churchill reported to police on June 9 that two men, to whom he was demonstrating a new car, held him up at the point of a gun, gagged, bound and robbed him and fled with the automobile. His registration papers were in the wallet they took from his pocket.

Nine shots were fired at Phillips on the night he was murdered in his variety store in Perkins street, Somerville. Two men took part in the crime.

Mellon-U.S. Tax Case Settled

WASHINGTON, June 21 (INS)—A settlement of the long-standing tax dispute between the federal government and the estate of the late Andrew J. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, was effected today when the Internal Revenue Bureau agreed to accept $668,000.

The agreement between the estate and the government provides that no further appeal will be taken by either to the courts. The settlement represents $485,809.49 claim by the government as tax deficiencies on 1931 income and $182,220 interest.

Just 'Gratitude,' That's All! Girl Says of $25,000 Legacy

SALEM, June 21—Gratitude, and nothing else, was the reason why Herbert B. Turner, internationally known photographer, left her $25,000 and only $100 to his widow, Miss Mildred T. Copperman, Gloucester artist, testified today in probate court.

Her third day on the stand, Miss Copperman said she watched Turner "night and day" during his illness on the Isle of Majorca, off the coast of Spain.

She said again she had been a constant companion for 12 years and again denied any improper relations between them. Turner left $100 to Mrs. Eva B. Turner, of Brattleboro, Vt., his widow contesting the will, and $1 each to his three daughters.

Miss Copperman said: "In 1938, Mr. Turner had a blood transfusion. We left Majorca when the Spanish war broke out and went to Italy. It was there I did my best to make him happy."

"I gave my time unreservedly to caring for him, nursing him all day. I stood over him all night. During the day I wheeled him around in a special chair. Frequently I bathed and dressed him and read to him.

"He told me I made him optimistic about his illness and made him happy."

She introduced letters written by Turner to a relative. They referred always, she said, to his happiness with her.

Roosevelt Bride's Girl Cousin on WPA in Boston

While the former Anne Lindsay Clark was honeymooning today with John Roosevelt on pine-shaded, sea-washed Campobello Island, N. B., Anne's first cousin, 21-year-old Nancy Cooper, was toiling in sweltering Boston as a WPA file clerk.

Only a few short years ago pretty, dark-haired Nancy was one of the most popular and sought-after members of Greater Boston's gay young social set.

Her father, the late Dexter Cooper, was nationally known as the engineer-sponsor of the "Quoddy" tide control project at Eastport, Me.

He died last February, broken-hearted, many said, because of the failure of his "Quoddy" dream to materialize.

Nancy Cooper's mother, before her marriage, was Miss Gertrude Sturgis of Brookline.

She is a sister of Mrs. F. Haven Clark, mother of John Roosevelt's bride of Saturday.

Nancy Cooper was a guest at the gala Nahan wedding of her cousin, Anne, and President Roosevelt's youngest son.

NOT LIKE OLD DAYS

But, in the busy, crowded WPA office where Nancy worked at the routine, poorly paid task today, there was little to remind her of Saturday's scenes of luxury and social distinction.

Nor was there much to remind her of her own recent, carefree girlhood, when, as a graduate of exclusive Concord academy, she enjoyed her yearly trip abroad and was the belle of gatherings of youthful social-registerites at fashionable summer places throughout the eastern United States.

As WPA jobs go, Nancy's isn't unpleasant. It's in the administrative office of the Women's and Professional Division and it pays $18 a week.

Workers in that office are on a non-relief basis.

The big building at Essex and Washington streets, however, is a long way from New Brunswick's pine forests and ocean-lapped shores.

Nancy lives on Beacon Hill now, not in Concord.

BROKE ENGAGEMENT

And it's just a little more than a year since she surprised society circles on both sides of the Atlantic by breaking her engagement to wealthy young Brian A. Hamilton, son of Commander and Mrs. A. H. J. Hamilton of Littlewood, Salisbury, Eng.

That marriage was to have taken place May 26, 1937, at Campobello Island, where her cousin Anne was honeymooning today.

"Lately, I haven't seen much of Anne," Nancy said today. "But I went to her wedding with my brother and sister and my mother."

"It was thrilling!" Nancy smiled, very quietly, at the remembrance—and went back to her WPA filing cabinet!

Japan, China Boost Port Business

Both China and Japan, ironically enough, played an important part in boosting the port of Boston business for the past week. It was disclosed from information released today by Collector Joseph McGrath.

Heavy imports of Chinese fireworks and Japanese bamboo rakes swelled import values to $1,686,685, highest figure in weeks.

victim refused to give a real motive for the killings.

The case was to be presented by Assistant Atty.-Gen. Ralph M. Ingalls and County Prosecutor Robert Smith, who have summoned 12 witnesses, including Miss Barbara Carroll, the girl whom Dwyer named as his sweetheart.

In the new story Dwyer has told authorities he was accompanied by the prominent South Paris man, when he went to Dr. Littlefield's on the night of the doctor's murder.

Investigators who have checked Dwyer's latest version say they have corroborating evidence which tends to show that the boy was accompanied by another on that night.

The pair are alleged to have seen the doctor about a matter which has never been explained. An argument followed in which Dwyer's companion is alleged to have struck and then choked Dr. Littlefield.

Similar procedure occurred in the case of Mrs. Littlefield's death, according to the story in the possession of detectives.

One who is expected to testify early is Sheriff Fernando Francis, who at the outset stated he was not satisfied that Dwyer's confession and sentence brought the true solution of the murders.

Escaped Convict Held as Burglar

Arthur Shultz, 38, of Lawrence, ex-convict who escaped from state's prison 10 days ago and was captured after breaking into four wealthy homes in Milton Sunday, was held in Quincy court today.

Dewey Spreads N. Y. Dragnet for Revere Fugitives

The New York crime net spread by "tracket-busting" District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey was being utilized today by Massachusetts authorities.

The latter turned to New York in their search for 15 of the 39 men indicted by Attorney General Paul A. Dever's "blue ribbon" grand jury in connection with Revere gambling and racketeering.

DRAG NETS SPREAD Boston police have recently been instrumental in rounding up indicted persons sought here by Dewey's office.

So today, the New York district attorney's well organized world drag net was called into service, in its turn, to help Suffolk county locate the more elusive Revere fugitives.

These were last reported "on the lam" with New York hideouts as their destination.

NEW INDICTMENTS

Meantime, the "blue ribbon" jury continued its probe here today, with new indictments in immediate prospect.

Two mystery witnesses were being closely guarded, and evidence, implicating alleged operators of horse race gambling rooms, was expected to be presented.

DRIVER ROBBED

Forced to the curb by two men in another machine, Alfred Tilden of Dwyer avenue, Whitman, was robbed of $50 while driving along Hancock street, Quincy.

Wife Beaten In Mystery Attack

Captain John F. McCarthy of the homicide squad of the Boston police department went to the bedside of Mrs. Beatrice Maher, 50, of Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, in Boston City Hospital today as the latest move in the police investigation of the brutal beating that placed her at death's door.

Dudley street station officers were questioning James F. Maher, 57, her husband, to determine how she had suffered her injuries. Mrs. Maher's name is on the danger list. She has contusions and abrasions all over her body, a concussion of the brain and possible fracture of the skull.

Rejoice! Cotton Business Gains

Massachusetts has one reason to rejoice, for the cotton and woolen goods business is picking up, the Department of Labor and Industries announced today.

During a "usual seasonal decline," Fall River picked up 10.2 per cent in employment and 9.1 per cent in payroll; Lawrence and Lowell also picked up.

However, less pleasant news came from Brockton, where the index for workers and payroll in shoe factories dropped 25 per cent.

Employment generally in the state for May was 26.8 under May last year, and wages were down 35.6 per cent.

Phi Beta Day At Harvard

Election of five honorary members featured the impressive Phi Beta Kappa exercises held in Sanders Theater today as part of the Harvard commencement week program.

The chapter also endorsed the report of a faculty committee which recommended reinstatement of Doctors J. Raymond Walsh and Alan P. Sweeney, economics department instructors, who had been offered concluding resignations.

Elected to the Harvard Chapter of the fraternity were:

Charles Francis Adams, class of 1908, former treasurer of Harvard and secretary of the navy and now president of the Harvard board of overseers.

Floyd H. Allport, class of 1915, professor of sociology and political psychology at the University of Syracuse.

Wilder D. Bancroft, class of 1908, professor of physical chemistry at Cornell University.

Warren K. Green, class of 1913, professor of astronomy.

David McCord, class of 1921, author and executive secretary of the Harvard fund council.

HAND ELECTED

Election of chapter officers was also held. Justice Learned Hand of the United States circuit court in New York was awarded the presidency.

George H. Edgehill, director of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts was made vice-president. Russell Sharpe, director of the student employment at Harvard, was named secretary, while Samuel Cross, professor of languages and literature, was elected chief marshal.

For the first time, commencement exercises will be held on the steps of Robinson Hall rather than Sever Hall.

Accommodations for 1200 additional guests will be made, making a total attendance of 6800 rather than the usual number of 4600.

Wiley E. Mayne, class orator, John S. Bainbridge, poet of '38, and Nathaniel Benchley, ivy orator, will lead in tomorrow's Class Day activities. The conflict fight will precede the Harvard-Yale baseball game. At night the class dinner, concert and dances will be held.

Commissions of second lieutenants in the officers' reserve corps of the U. S. Army and certificates of proficiency in military science were awarded in Harvard Hall to approximately 19 members of the senior class today.

PRESENTED SABRE

Brig. General William H. Wilson, chief of staff of the First Corps Area, presented certificates and commissions to John F. Casey, Jr., of Allston, Edwin G. Davis of Cambridge, Charles W. Doherty, Jr., of Mattapan, John F. Hill of Brookline, Shepard Jerome of Hyde Park, Francis X. Leary of Belmont, John Briggs, III, of Cambridge, Edward H. Osgood, Jr., of Weymouth, Robert Sullivan of Boston and Alfred M. Torrielli of Watertown.

Briggs was presented a saber by Field Artillery Chapter of the Massachusetts Reserve Officers' Association in recognition of his high standing in the course of military science and tactics.

Joseph F. New, football star, of Dorchester and Richard G. Labovitz of Mattapan will receive their certificates and commissions later this year.

Later in the day, the annual meeting of the Harvard Law School Association was held in Langdell Hall.

Wellesley Has Big Bridal Crop

A bumper crop of Wellesley College brides was revealed today following the annual senior banquet in Alumnae Hall.

Thirty-eight members of the 1938 class arose to announce their engagements while another 17 of the class were announced as already married. Most of the latter group left college to wed.

TIME TO DANCE—Lucy Pope of Brookline and Bob Stuart test a moment between dances at Lowell House during senior class spread. Stuart is a Harvard class marshal.

Princeton

PRINCETON, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Princeton University conferred honorary degrees of doctors of laws today on Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Governor A. Harry Moore, of New Jersey.

Unofficial reports last week that the Democratic governor would receive the degree stirred a campus controversy, and petitions were circulated among students, protesting Moore was a "puppet" of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City.

President Harold W. Dodds presented diplomas to 476 seniors, the third largest number to graduate in Princeton's 191 years.

Pin 'Orchids' On Yale Grads

From a totally unexpected quarter, the much-abused American college undergraduate today won a measure of approbation when President Charles Seymour of Yale told 606 seniors he had noticed two improvements in students of the present day.

His address to the student body followed distribution of 395 degrees to the class of 1933 in the arts course, 195 in the Sheffield scientific school, and 52 in the department of engineering.

STILL NOT PERFECT

While pointing out the intellectual change, which he perceived taking place in undergraduate ranks, President Seymour hastened to add that perfection was still far distant.

"I believe that the whole standard of undergraduate values is in process of change," declared President Seymour, "and that in this process you as a class have played an important and useful part."

"It would not be true to imply, however, that the criteria of the undergraduate world have approached perfection, judged from the standpoint of pure reason. Heaven forbid."

"It is not likely that undergraduates will ever approach perfection as judged by an older and censorious generation.

MORE SERIOUS

"But it is certainly true that there are many more undergraduates who are seriously concerned with the intellectual opportunities of college life than ever before."

Honorary degrees, including Walt Disney's, and degrees for students at the graduate schools of the university will be conferred tomorrow.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 21 (AP)—Gregory D. Cipriani, 19, was injured fatally when his motorcycle struck an automobile. His death ended at 22 days the city's attempt to report its record of 111 days without a traffic fatality, established recently.

Court Chides Doctor's Wife for Strenuous Life

Mrs. Mary Merlin, whose married life has been enlivened with such entertaining episodes as a fist fight in the pouring rain with a nurse, and two divorce suits, drew down upon herself the disapproval of Judge John V. Mahoney in Suffolk probate court today.

With her attorney, Alfred P. Tropeano, she went to the bench. Tropeano said Mrs. Merlin "made disparaging remarks about him," that he was ready to go ahead with the case and she refused, and that he wanted to withdraw.

Mrs. Merlin is defendant in a divorce suit—the second brought against her by Dr. Samuel A. Merlin, state prison physician, brought on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

Judge Mahoney said there had been a great many continuances. He revoked a decree giving Mrs. Merlin $20 a week separate support.

The couple were married in 1923 and have one child. Dr. Merlin was granted a divorce in 1932, but before it became final there was a reconciliation.

In June, 1934, Mrs. Merlin sought an injunction in Suffolk court against Miss Irene Halliworth, 21, of Dorchester, her maid, to prevent her from "committing such acts as would tend to alienate the affections of my husband."

At about the same time, Mrs. Merlin engaged in a fist fight with Miss Halliworth in a rainstorm that was also braved by several hundred amused Back Bay spectators.

Tobin Spurns Resignation Of Whitcomb

Convinced that Richard Whitcomb, his efficiency expert who resigned last night to seek Republican nomination for Governor would have a slim chance, Mayor Tobin has already refused his proffered resignation "a dozen times," friends of the mayor said today.

Mayor Tobin, who had great respect for Whitcomb's methods with the municipal survey committee, tried to discourage Whitcomb two months ago when his name was first mentioned, it was learned.

It was also learned that of $25,000 given to Whitcomb for the survey committee about $8000 had been spent up to yesterday.

Whitcomb said the money had been used for the services of Frederick Monocowicz, an attorney, and two stenographers.

The municipal survey committee began to function on Feb. 12 last.

Budget Commissioner Francis X. Lang is expected to succeed Whitcomb.

Whitcomb's entrance in the fight makes the fifth Republican seeking the office and gave rise to rumor that John W. Haigis, former nominee and again a candidate, might withdraw to support Whitcomb.

12 Wreck Dead Still Sought in Submerged Car

MILES CITY, Mont., June 21 (AP)—With 31 already known dead, fatigue-worn searchers worked today to lift up from the silt-soaking bed of Custer creek a tourist sleeper which railroad officials estimated contained 12 more victims of the nation's worst railroad tragedy in a decade.

Twenty-three of the 31 known victims were identified. The bodies of two unidentified women were taken last night from the sleeper which plunged with the Milwaukee railroad's crack "Olympian" train through a flood-weakened trestle early Sunday.

Twelve other bodies were found earlier yesterday and a woman died in a hospital.

The sleeper submerged nearly 36 hours, was jacked up on blocks.

Suddenly, the heavy steel car slipped loose and sank again into the sickly silt.

Grimly, the 75 railroad workers and volunteers started their slow job again, working without halt through the night. Meanwhile, railroad and government officials launched an investigation of the wreck.

Of the 65 injured who were rushed to the 85-bed hospital here, nearly all were released after minor treatment.

He was a boyhood chum of Mayor Tobin in the Mission Hill section of Roxbury.

Given Chance To Start Anew

BROCKTON, June 21—James A. Tallman, Jr., of Woburn, a bridegroom of but 10 days, today began life anew with the encouragement of Judge Thomas J. Hammond.

Appearing in Superior Court, Tallman was placed on probation for two years after he entered a plea of guilty to charges of breaking and entering and theft of $12 from a Middleboro store.

Judge Hammond extended the probation when he saw Tallman's bride, a Woburn girl, anxiously awaiting the outcome of the case in court. He told the defendant that the new marriage ought to influence him to turn over a new leaf.

Court Halts Hague Blast

NEWARK, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City ended his testimony in the federal court "free speech" trial today with a protest against Judge William Clark's refusal to permit him to make a public statement regarding Morris L. Ernst, counsel for the plaintiff CIO and American Civil Liberties Union, in an injunction action against Hague and fellow officials.

When his questioning ended, the tall vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee turned to Judge Clark.

"Your honor, I ask permission to make a public statement regarding Mr. Ernst," he said. "I have proof —"

The judge shook his head and Hague continued: "I have records —"

DISAPPOINTED

Again Judge Clark shook his head and said any further statement would have to be left for the defense in the suit brought jointly by the CIO and ACLU.

"I feel very disappointed at not being permitted," Hague started.

Interrupted again by opposing counsel and the judge, Hague, now on his feet in the witness box and motioning toward Ernst, said "It involves this gentleman, it involves the integrity of this court."

The mayor was again halted and a short recess was taken to give him an opportunity to confer with his counsel.

LAST WITNESS

William Callahan of the Catholic Workers, a New York news magazine, was the last witness before Judge Clark granted the defense counsel a one-day adjournment to permit them to prepare a motion to dismiss the suit.

Many times during the trial, now in its fourth week, Hague had assailed Ernst as a Communist and charged him with being the "master mind" in a Communistic-CIO plot to gain control of labor in this country and of the country itself.

Newspapers Merge in Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., June 21 (INS)—The merger of the Dallas Dispatch and Journal, both afternoon papers, was announced today with the granting of a state charter in Austin to the Dispatch-Journal Publishing Company.

The Dispatch was owned by the Scripps League of newspapers, and the Journal by the A. H. Belo Corporation. The latter also publishes the Dallas Morning News.

Karl Hohlitzelle of the Interstate Amusement Company; Alfred O. Anderson, former publisher of the Dispatch, and John Moroney are listed as the incorporators.

Anderson is to have active direction of the combined paper, which will be published six days a week beginning July 1.

The Journal began publication April 1, 1914, and the Dispatch over 30 years ago.

Red Flame Held On Flag Charge

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 21 (AP)—Charged with violation of a state law prohibiting use of the American flag in connection with advertising, Ann Burlak of Providence, Rhode Island secretary of the Communist party, today pleaded innocent in district court and was held with two Pawtucket men in $500.

The charges against Miss Burlak, known as the "Red Flame," and Joseph Carter, 24, and Antonio Jungiero, 43, were brought after police broke up a meeting and seized a pamphlet published by the Workers' Library entitled "This Fourth of July."

On the cover is a reproduction of the widely known picture "The Spirit of '76" in which appears an American flag. On the back is an advertisement of a pamphlet by Earl Browder, national head of the Communist party.

Cases were continued to July 8.

CIO Auto Union To Bar All Reds

NEW YORK, June 21 (INS)—A complete purge of Communist members of the United Automobile Workers of America was pledged today in a sensational statement by Homer Martin, president of the powerful CIO union.

Determined to drive out "alien and destructive forces" responsible for sit-down strikes and other violations of contracts, the automobile workers will split their union rather than permit Reds to retain membership, Martin said.

Bluntly, Martin added: "The Communists must go."

He disclosed plans to sweep radical elements from one of the largest CIO organizations a few minutes before he boarded a plane for Detroit. He had visited New York in connection with a new contract signed with the Brewster Aircraft Co.

15 More Face Spy Arrest

NEW YORK, June 1 (INS)—Another sensation-laden document, naming more men and women as members of the Nazi espionage ring, will be returned shortly by the federal grand jury—which shattered diplomatic peace-time precedent by issuing four high officers of the German war ministry of leadership of the syndicate.

This unqualified prediction was made today by a government official closely connected with the case. He added that yesterday indictments naming 18 persons two of them women, were "just good start."

"There are many others," he said, "Some of these are American citizens, and as soon as the investigation is complete a much more detailed picture will be made public."

BLUNT CHARGES

One of these, it was said, will be a German resident of New York whose social position and reputation are much higher than those of the fugitive Dr. Ignatz T. Griebel, reputed "brains" of the conspiracy.

The sensation caused by the blunt charges against the German military officers, one of them head of the German secret service, had the approval of the administration.

Before the names of the officers were returned in the indictments, it was revealed, U. S. Attorney Lamar Hardy went to Washington and obtained the tacit consent of the Department of Justice to make a full exposure of the ring from the lowliest pawn to the high command.

No information on the ultimate extent of the investigation, or on the 15 more indictments expected, could be obtained.

Hardy said the grand jury would resume its deliberations after "a breathing spell." It was expected the body would reconvene next week.

In the meantime, Hardy said, the status of 18 men and women still held as material witnesses remains unchanged.

Of the 18 persons named, only four can be tried under the indictment as the situation now stands.

All four have been under arrest since the start of the investigation nearly four months ago. Others named in the indictment are residents of Germany, or have fled there.

The four in custody are: Miss Johanna Hofmann, 26, attractive blond hairdresser on the North German Lloyd liner Europa, who was arrested and found to have secret United States government code books in her possession.

Ex-Sergeant Guenther Gustav Kummerich, 32, Chicago born, who disappeared from his post at Miesoula, Miss., in 1935. His bungling impersonation of a government official, while attempting to obtain a "head" of blank passports, led to exposure of the ring.

Private Erich Glasser, 28, a naturalized German, who was attached to the Army Air Corps at Mitchell Field, and who was active in the theft of air secrets.

Otto H. Voss, who was employed at the Seversky plant at Farmingdale, L. I., where he allegedly stole sketches and information regarding the construction of wings, gas and fuel compartments and guns of a new type of army pursuit plane.

Let's Drive Them Out

THE disclosures of organized espionage in the United States, purportedly at the instigation of a foreign government or its agents, should suggest many new and necessary MEASURES OF NATIONAL DEFENSE.

If the evidence upon which the New York federal grand jury has based its indictments is accurate, there has been the most deliberate and palpably outrageous violation of our laws and hospitality.

Plainly, too, there has been a vigilance against these insulating activities and a capacity for ferreting them out that we have had in too small degree in the past.

The searching investigations that have brought these matters into the open merit the approbation of the entire country.

Certainly we cannot tolerate the presence or intrigues in this country of alien spies or their traitorous associates here.

The full force of national authority must be thrown against them.

Assuredly, public and patriotic opinion CONDEMNNS THEM.

If we do not have adequate laws for dealing with them, and for imposing deserved penalties for their vicious crimes, certainly it becomes the immediate business of Congress to enact such laws.

We should be naive indeed to think that we are vulnerable on only one front, or susceptible to the plottings of only one nation, if our defenses have crumbled as these indictments lead us to believe.

We should not raise bars against one government which may have had the audacity and the callous contempt for our national sovereignty to send spying agents into our midst, and LEAVE THE BARS DOWN FOR OTHER GOVERNMENTS CAPABLE AND DOUBTLESSLY CULPABLE OF THE SAME OFFENSE.

Let us MAKE THIS A CLEAN SWEEP, and safeguard America against all assault upon our institutions and security.

Let us discover and DEPORT FROM OUR SHORES all alien agents of foreign governments who may seek, by espionage or sabotage or by other means, to weaken or discredit America.

And let us put the BRAND OF TRAITORS on any or all of our own people who have so far forsaken their heritage as Americans to give aid or comfort to those who come here as spying guests or the emissaries of alien creeds.

The federal authorities and the members of the New York grand jury have DONE ADMIRABLY WELL in revealing this shocking breach in our national defense.

Let us close the breach with a bastion that will protect our nation and its institutions against assault from without and treason from within.

Charge Nazi Spies Seize U. S. War Plans

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938)

WASHINGTON, June 21—Nazi Germany, for more than five years, has been seeking to penetrate the vital defense secrets and war plans of the United States and other democratic powers.

In several instances the spies have succeeded, and important American air corps developments have been spirited away to Germany.

The existence of world-wide espionage activities by the Nazi government and the fact the spies have been able to obtain some secrets was disclosed to International News Service today by a responsible authority, which, for obvious reasons, must remain anonymous.

The revelations were made possible by the action of the federal grand jury in New York in indicting 18 persons, four of them high officers in the Nazi war ministry, for espionage activities.

Roosevelt Listens

Kennedy Tells Europe Crisis

and his trusted advisor to discuss the pending Anglo-American trade treaty and what Kennedy has observed in general during his six months as a diplomat.

Before and after Kennedy's call, Mr. Roosevelt had much work to do on bills passed by Congress in the final days before last week's adjournment.

Hitting his stride yesterday, following a week-end cruise down the New England coast and up the Hudson, the President clipped 43 measures off his "awaiting action" list, but scores still waited signature or veto.

Thirty-six of the bills on which he took action yesterday were approved, seven were vetoed.

Among those which received his favor was one increasing 1933 wheat acreage allotments under the present farm act from 42,000,000 to 55,000,000.

Another authorized, but appropriated no funds for, $37,695,850 of rivers and harbors work. Fifty-two construction projects and 66 surveys of proposed projects were authorized by the measure.

One bill vetoed would have increased from $30 to $40 monthly benefits for totally and permanently disabled veterans whose disability was not connected with military service. In returning the measure unsigned, Mr. Roosevelt expressed belief it would cause dissatisfaction among other veterans entitled to benefits.

He also rejected a bill to place the foreign commerce service on the same pay, grade, promotion and retirement basis as the State Department's diplomats and consuls.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested that instead of this bill, Congress should pass a comprehensive measure covering all departments with foreign offices.

In other vetoes, the President expressed dislike for exempting bridges and bridge bonds from taxation.

Solons Sustain Hurley Veto

Speeding toward anticipated prorogation at the end of the week, the Massachusetts Legislature today began to clear up its business calendar.

In swift action the House sustained Governor Hurley's veto of the $500,000 distribution bill, designed to allocate that sum to cities and towns throughout the state.

At the same time the Senate ways and means committee recommended suspension for a year, beginning July 1, of employa contributions to the state unemployment compensation commission.

Speaker Horace T. Cahill informed the House there were 21 measures still on the House calendar and 18 on the Senate, and there were 18 bills still in committee and 23 awaiting the governor's signature.

In the meantime the legislature was advised by Attorney Henry C. Rowland, a former legal adviser to the state bank commissioner, to refuse to adopt the proposal for purchase of Boston elevated stock.

"The outstanding crime of 1933," wrote Attorney Rowland, "will be committed in the Massachusetts Legislature, if the purchase of Boston Elevated Railway stock is put over on the people of 16 cities and towns, in which the Elevated operates its cars."

Barrows' Maine Lead 50,000

PORTLAND, Me., June 21 (AP)—The majority Maine Republicans rolled up for Governor Lewis O. Barrows in his successful bid for renomination in yesterday's primaries approached 50,000 today as scattered late returns were computed.

Virtually complete returns showed Barrows had administered a sound beating to his opponent, youthful State Senator Roy L. Fernald, avowed liberal and insurgent Republican floor leader in the Senate.

By virtue of his triumph, Barrows will face former Governor Louis J. Brann (D.) in the September gubernatorial fight. Brann was renominated by Democrats without opposition.

Benson Again Takes Lead in Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, June 21 (AP)—Governor Elmer A. Benson, Minnesota, pushed ahead of his challenger, Hjalmar Petersen, for the Farmer-Labor nomination in Monday's primary election, as additional returns were compiled today. The lead had changed hands frequently.

Benson had a 4438 lead on the basis of 1841 of 3739 precincts in the state, Petersen's margin, built up with rural votes, was slashed heavily when a batch of ballots came in from Hennepin county (Minneapolis), Benson stronghold.

The vote with about half the precincts reported, was Benson, 109,188; Petersen, 104,730.

The two Farmer-Labor candidates polled 75,000 more than the four Republican aspirants, lending credence to the belief that thousands of Republican voters had jumped the party fence in a move designed to eliminate Benson from the general election in November.

The Farmer-Labor race overshadowed the Republican and Democratic contests. Harold Stassen, Republican, and Thomas Gallagher, Democrat, both young lawyers, were leading their respective fields.

In the Republican gubernatorial race Harold Stassen of South St. Paul, county attorney, who waged an intensive campaign on anti-Benson issues, held a comfortable lead over Mayor George E. Leach of Minneapolis, with Martin Nelson of Austin, party nominee in the last two elections and defeated by the Farmer-Labor candidate each time, running third.

Dyer charged that Arakelian wooed his wife, Helen, away from him.

PROBE OTHER SERVICES

At the same time, secret service agents and other government investigators have been making personnel surveys in coast guard and immigration department organizations, it became known today.

Complete secrecy has heretofore cloaked the government's drive against potential enemies on its own payroll.

Recent sensational disclosures in New York, however, influenced Washington authorities to appeal for public support of some angles of the spy purge.

Superintendent Eaton of the lighthouse service declined to admit today that his order directing dismissal of aliens had direct connection with the anti-espionage drive.

HOW ALIENS GOT JOBS

"Some years ago," he said, "we were forced to hire many non-citizens for the lighthouse service because no citizens were available who would take the jobs we had to offer."

"The non-citizens were put on the payroll with the understanding they were to be replaced by citizens when possible.

"So far as I know, the present move tooust alien employes was requested by the department of labor as a measure to relieve unemployment of citizens."

Swing-music and hoss-racing. An expert in neither, but bringing an open mind to both subjects, your correspondent confesses that he is baffled today . . . The contents of the mail is responsible . . .

From Dick Abbott, the musicians' friend, at the Hotel Statler, comes this interesting protest:

"I feel obliged to suggest that at last the reading public should be told the truth about the musicians' vocabulary. I refer to such terms as 'jive,' 'gutbucket,' etc."

"A clarinet to a musician is still a clarinet, not a 'licorice stick,' and the phrase 'out of this world' is used 99 times out of a hundred by a member of the audience instead of a player . . . In my humble opinion this jargon credited to musicians has a tendency to cheapen the profession. Imagine a surgeon calling a scalpel a 'shiv'! . . ."

"With the great revival of public interest in modern dance music and dance band which has been taking place during the past year or two, I believe musicians should be presented as . . . the clean-cut, earnest and ambitious men that they really are—not as the marijuana-steeped, slang-mumbling wretches . . . Public enlightenment must always be truthful!" It is signed by Mr. Abbott.

"Public enlightenment must always be truthful?" . . . What a millennium . . . As an earnest and ambitious young worker toward that end in a profession which depends on its accuracy for information from expert sources, your representative tried in vain to reconcile the Abbott letter with an authorized release from George Olsen . . .

Mr. Olsen certainly has standing in his profession . . . In a communication to this desk headed "George Olsen presents The News of Today," the following startling bit of "news" is included:

"Marijuana Too Great An Influence on Swing Music" is the title . . . And: "One of these days, say those close to the situation, the FBI (Federal Bureau of Investigation) will deal the cruelest blow that swing music has yet received. Growing alarm over the widespread use of the marijuana weed by jitterbugs is said to be arousing intense thought and interest at J. Edgar Hoover's headquarters."

"It is fairly well established that the weed first took hold of the low down musicians playing in Harlem dives . . . From there it has spread to musicians all over the country who rely on its inspiration to emit the wild, abandoned rhythms known as swing music . . . Referred smoking musicians play with a ferocity and intensity that grips auditors until they are themselves frenzied with uncontrollable emotion . . . Too many hands are faced with a marijuana problem . . . It is said the FBI knows it, and the American public may one day be treated to an expose that will rock the nation." . . . So! Mr. Abbot meet Mr. Olsen!

Who's Really Going to Run?

From the headquarters of the Eastern Racing Association comes the daily publicity release on the Massachusetts Handicap, the Blue Ribbon Classic of the Summer, set for a week from tomorrow . . .

" . . . When War Admiral, Seabiscuit, Aneroid, Pompoon and Snark clash in the renewal of the famed Massachusetts Handicap, etc. etc. etc. . . ."

And from the column of a New York turf expert, discussing next Saturday's New York classic, The Brooklyn.

"The Brooklyn was further weakened by the misfortune to Wheatley Stable's Snark, which bowed a tendon in the Carter Handicap . . . Snark not only will miss the Brooklyn (no mention of the Massachusetts Handicap) but it is very likely he will be retired . . . Indications now are that J.H. Louchheim's Pompoon, under 126 pounds, will rule a strong choice for Aqueduct's richest race (The Brooklyn again, darn it!), as Trainer Johnny Loftus has just decided that the Brooklyn is an easier test than the Massachusetts Handicap (Ah, there it is!), for which he has been assigned 125 pounds."

To the majority of casual racing fans, the names of Snark and Pompoon don't mean too much . . . If War Admiral gets a chance to show his heels to Seabiscuit, that will be enough competition for any race meeting . . . But the point is, who's a fellow going to believe when the postman leaves his bundle?

Once Over Lightly:

A beautiful and secluded roadhouse on the fringe of the Charles River, Leonard's-on-the-Charles is situated on a 20-acre estate in Weston and Waltham . . . Weston is dry, and because the dining-room is over the Walkham line, the Boston restaurateur enjoys the benefits of a liquor-license . . . Jacques Fournel follows Dick Stutz at the Westminster Roof week from Monday.

The Andrew Jackson Associates of Brighton, where former Senator Michael J. Ward pontificates beneficently, will foregather at Dover, Mass., Sunday, for the club's annual summer outing . . . Lieutenant-Governor Francis E. Kelly, whose workers overflowed the Brunswick last night in a final committee meeting before Sunday's mass-meeting at Symphony Hall, will be the Jackson club's probable guest of honor at the Dover picnic . . . But official word is not yet forthcoming.

N. E. Business Making Time Until Fall

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

Financial Editor

New England business is currently making time and is not expected to move appreciably in either direction until fall, when improvement should be visible in most important lines. Of the individual industries located in this section better conditions are indicated in the shoe trade.

These are the findings of the New England Purchasing Agents Association based on a checkup of twenty-two manufacturing industries of which 15 per cent find conditions better, 40 per cent find them the same and 45 per cent report them worse.

On the all-important inventory question the association has a much wanted good word. There are no increases reported, 15 per cent are about the same while 85 per cent are lower. Buying policies are still on a hand to mouth basis and are not expected to change unless there are definite indications of increased demand and firmer prices.

STATE STREET NOTEBOOK

Plenty of bullish talk around . . . but it is not being backed up by substantial buying orders . . . Gold stocks may be losing impetus due to cessation of inflation rumors . . . but holders of leading issues in the

Strong Market

Stock prices turned higher today after overcoming early profit-taking. Leaders were up from fractions to nearly two points in active dealings.

duPont	42 1/2	+ 1/4
Eastman Kodak	156 1/2	+ 1 1/2
Gen Motors	31 1/2	+ 3/4

U.S. Steel	45 1/2	+ 1/4

Group are not showing a disposition to liquidate . . . which reminds us that Noranda's full year earnings are expected to reach $4 per share . . . and Natemas around $1.50 per share for a minimum.

Babcock & Wilson is expected to show a second quarter profit about equal to that reported for the first . . . and Gomp has it that operations in the second half will not show an increase . . . Allen Industries may show a small profit for the first half . . . Cerro de Pasco is now listed for earnings of around $2 per share for the year . . .

TECHNICAL UPTURN

The upturn in stock prices must be considered a purely technical affair for the time being. The market had demonstrated its unwillingness to go down under bad news and with the advent of a few hopeful business items a stale short account undoubtedly took fright. Before accepting claims a lasting turn has taken place it must be first shown the list can hold the trend.

Business Picture Blurred

By LEWIS HANEY

(Professor of Economics, New York University)

NEW YORK, June 21.—The business picture last week, as seen in statistics, looked blurred. The data were mixed.

This fact, however, may be considered favorably, since such a condition can indicate the approach of stability. At least, it shows an interruption in the decline.

On average, the indexes of business activity gained a little, this being notably true of railway carloadings. Even in the extremely depressed steel industry, there were reports of faint traces of betterment.

One of these reports concerned prices, the gist of it being that at last the market for steel scrap had turned. I am sorry to say, however, that the evidence here is too slight to warrant much optimism. It is not clear that scrap prices have turned. And the average of all prices actually receded a little, last week.

On the whole, it can be said that the following is about the size of the general commodity price situation. Most of the "international" commodities rose, including tin, rubber, silk, and cotton.

But most domestic commodities, especially those in the agricultural group, turned reactionary. The grains fell back and closed lower than a week ago.

And in some cases, in which industrial commodities have been held up out of line with others, signs of downward readjustments appeared. The mark-down of galvanized sheets by the steel manufacturers is a case in point.

In general, it seems that there is still too much uncertainty to allow any pronounced business recovery or rise in prices. People simply don't buy much when they feel completely unsettled and doubtful as to what comes next.

What is to become of the railways? Congress adjourned without aiding them. Are the "left wing"ers whom the President selects to advise him trying to push the railway system into government ownership and operation?

Twin Boys Sing
For Wedding Cake

By BETTY ALDEN

DAVID and Christopher Bird, ten-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Jr., sang for their pieces of wedding cake yesterday afternoon at the nuptials of their cousin, Joanne Bass and Marshall Field, Jr. . . . During the wedding breakfast, served to the bridal party at a long table under the spreading trees on the lawn at Endean, the chubby little boys sat on the grass nearby, seriously watching all the proceedings and listening to the songs proposed by each member of the bridal party . . .

So Henry Perkins Bass, the bride's brother, arose and announced that there were two lively entertainers present, just longing for a chance to add their toast to the happy occasion . . . so the twins went to the table, stood beside Marshall and sang in close harmony the favorite old marching song "Abide Abide, Abide."

Once they forgot the words of a stanza, so there was a pause while they whispered to each other . . . but that only added to the merriment and, when they rehearsed the words over and over to each other, they finally finished the ballad to a burst of applause and cheers and were even rewarded by a large piece of Joanne's wedding cake . . .

The little boys' handsome father was coaxed to join the bridal table by Edith Bass Benson, sister of the bride and mother of honor, who insisted that "Uncle Charlie" toast Joanne and Marshall with one of his favorite songs . . . His clear tenor echoed across the lawn so that most of the guests, enjoying refreshments under umbrella tables, could hear his rendition of an appropriate old ballad . . .

One of the most affectionate toasts was proposed by the bridegroom's sister, Barbara (Mrs. Anthony Bliss), who said she wished Marshall and Joanne as much happiness as she and "Tony" had enjoyed . . . The best man, Edward I. Farley, called on Donald McKellar, whom he described as the best impersonator he knows . . . but Usher Don did not give one of his impersonations, telling, instead of a few humorous happenings which occurred at the church before the ceremony actually began. His fiancée, Dottie Pierce, though not a bridesmaid, rated a place at his side at the bridal feast . . .

Reception at Endean, Walpole Estate

The reception took place at Endean, the spacious estate of the bride's Grandmother Bird, in Walpole. . . . The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Diego Suarez, of New York, was cordially greeted by many Bostonian friends. . . . She wore a navy and white printed redingote costume with a large white hat. . . . There was a lot of good natured teasing when she and her former husband, Marshall Field, Sr., were induced by Robert Perkins Bass, (the bride's father) and Grandmother Bird, to pose with them in a foursome on the terrace steps . . .

The present Mrs. Field, (the former Ruth Pruyn Phipps, who married Mr. Field in 1936) kept out of the limelight as much as possible, sitting quietly at an umbrella table chatting with Mrs. Francis B. Crowninshield, Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, Minna Lindsay and others. . . . She wore a white and pastel printed silk and a small turban trimmed with pink ribbons and a pale blue veil. . . . The bride's mother was unable to be present due to illness. . . .

Mrs. John Ray Foster, of Arlington, gave a tea in honor of the engagement of her daughter, Helen Jenkins Foster, to Shattuck Weston Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Osborne, of West Newton.

The future bride received with her mother and Mr. Osborne. She wore a tea gown of cream-colored silk with puff sleeves and a pleated skirt, and a corsage of white peonies and delphiniums. Mrs. Foster's gown was of tulle and white silk.

Among the pourers was Mrs. Foster's house guest, Mrs. Valentine K. Raymond, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was a classmate of the prospective bride at Smith College. Mrs. Alfred H. Stafford, of Waban, was also a pourer.

Hansons Off
On Honeymoon

Matrimony to Canada: Mr. and Mrs. Edna and Carl Hanson, who were married at the corner of Edna and Elm streets in Boston.

Mrs. Hanson is the former Miss Marie Hanson of East Boston. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, William C. Hanson, chose in lieu of a gown of white satin, a navy and white redingote to suit. Her hair was styled in a cup of gold curls.

Serving as best man, attendant was Gertrude Hanson, of East Boston. Her third cousin of the organist was Louis Hanson, of Boston. The bride's bridesmaids were of pink tulle.

Receiving was the couple at the buffet supper with Mrs. William Cohan, white accessories accenting her navy lace frock and Mrs. Robert Hanson, mother of the bridegroom, who chose a brightly colored frock of printed cloth.

Bridal Trip

At an impressive ceremony at St. Mary's Church, Waltham, today, O'Callahan became the bride of Noel O'Callahan, of Cambridge. The bride was resplendent in a mauve tulle of white satin. A bouquet of roses, carnations and violets of blue completed her ensemble.

Her three bridesmaids were effectively arranged in mauve tulle dresses, with large puffed sleeves, and carried arm bouquets of lavender. In the group were two of her sisters, Miriam and Virginia, and a former schoolmate, Mrs. Charles Dalton, of Cambridge.

Rev. Joseph O'Callahan, S. J., of Weston College, officiated at his brother's wedding.

Following the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Cunningham, of Waltham, the couple left for a tour of England.

Thin Black Combats Heat

THIN BLACK will see you through when everything else you own is a giver-ner to the heat. Touched with bands of crisp white sheer or lace cut-outs that look like frost crystals, your black sheer will help you maintain an air of aloof, shadowy coolth in the most merciless atmosphere. Dawn Eaton models two rather special finds . . . special because neither is over seven dollars . . . special because one is a gauzy marquisee redingote type and the other a flowing chiffon . . . and both can do quite special things for you! Left, dirndl fullness from the waist and a soft-draped bodice would make the black chiffon perfect for an ultra-slender girl. Right, the marquisee redingote is graceful in under-rating a curve or two. Trying Too Hard to Please, Mistake

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Effortless charm is much like it is in writing—it takes practice. There is a way to find it, and it is to be a "happy accident."

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My sister never likes for dinner and she is always late. She is always late for her dates and at dinner. Of course, what can she do? She is always late for her dates and at dinner. Of course, what can she do? She is always late for her dates and at dinner. Of course, what can she do?

and have a pleasing personality. Always wear a pleasant smile. Don't drink, smoke or use profane language, and I'm not going to much better.

Of course, you can't be a perfect woman. You can't be a perfect woman. You can't be a perfect woman. You can't be a perfect woman. You can't be a perfect woman.

Lonely. Perhaps it is that you are a lonely girl and perhaps you are a lonely girl and perhaps you are a lonely girl and perhaps you are a lonely girl and perhaps you are a lonely girl.

One day, working over making a good impression, seems to make a mistake.

To be popular requires a quick sense that one is rather amazingly good-looking that comes along. It is a special attribute in an ingredient that repels mosquitoes and those vitriolic-natured beach gnats.

We guarantee you'll be besieged with fellow vacationers who would chisel in on your supply of this magnificent stuff.

To learn the name of this sun proof cream from the French Riviera . . . which induces a rosy-gold tan or keeps you absolutely fair . . . it is not expensive for all its exclusive origin, phone Arline Gould, Liberty 4000, week-days until five, or write her at the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Marvelous Sunproof Cream For Gorgeous Bisque-Tan

By ARLINE GOULD

STRAIGHT from the French Riviera . . . where the women are past masters at guarding their youth and beauty from anything too stringent, whether it be sun, winter wind or beach drying . . . comes a new sun-proof cream that will allow you to tan slowly to a glamorous bisque tone, or protect your skin entirely from burn or tan, if you've decided that's the wisest course.

Nothing like it has ever been known on these shores before. It has certain ingredients which will allow your skin to "ripen" to a really glowing tone that's worlds apart from yesterday's harsh, dark tan. It's a lush mixture of pink and dark gold that is young and gay as a June morning.

If you've taken tan badly before this, you'll be astounded to see the clear rose-pink tones mixing with the fresh bronze. Quite the most accommodating trait of the new sun-proof cream is that you regulate the tan-or-not-to-tan question by the number of coats you choose to use.

And speaking of something on your face, a new sensation ahead of you, for the stuff feels like liquid velvet, is non-sticky and non-greasy. It is pinky-rich to use and takes to the skin instantly, leaving a fine, deeply and soothingly radiance and a dull or lifeless tone.

It's as perfect a foundation for face make-up as it is for the whole body.

One coat of cream will foster the creamy bisque tan to perfection. Three coats will keep your skin absolutely fair!

When you use it for face make-up, you'll find it so filmy and fine that powder will never cake on.

If you want to take out beauty insurance this summer, if you want to have your skin as fresh and radiant as fine-grained and fine-textured at the end of a summer out of doors as it is these dewy June days, you should put this on your Must List of cosmetics.

Take along an extra tube or two on your vacation . . . whether it's two weeks in the quaintest corner of Martha's Vineyard or an around-the-world cruise . . . for one of its very special attributes is an ingredient that repels mosquitoes and those vitriolic-natured beach gnats.

We guarantee you'll be besieged with fellow vacationers who would chisel in on your supply of this magnificent stuff.

Cover-Up Tip for Gray-Haired Men

Dear Arline Gould: I've noticed an increasing streak of gray hair at my husband's temples. He seems to worry about it, and recently said that it makes him feel "older and less efficient" at his job. I told him that was nonsense. And now I'm wondering if there is any way he can conceal it without dyeing. What do you suggest? Mrs. F. C. Jamaica Plain.

Dear Mrs. F. C.: There is a way to cover up gray hair without the "fakes and feathers" and obvious misadventure of dye. It is a new liquid hair stick which contains an application like a hair cream with a tiny splash of color in the red. It is not a dye, but a color which is part of the skin's own color. It doesn't dye the hair, but it does cover up the gray. It is a new liquid hair stick which contains an application like a hair cream with a tiny splash of color in the red. IT'S CHERRY TIME! BAKE CHERRY PIE

Here's a wonderful recipe

Even if you've never baked a pie in your life before, try this one. Now, how easily triple-creamed Spry, the new ALL-vegetable shortening, cuts into your flour—what tender, flaky crust you get. Women who have been baking for years are amazed how much better their pastry is since they've used Spry. Spry gives lighter cakes, too, in half the mixing time. Crisper, more delicate fried foods that are so digestible a child can eat them. Try Spry. Use it for all baking and frying. And make this wonderful cherry pie today. It's a treat!

Fresh Cherry Pie

4 cups fresh red cherries, pitted 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour 1 egg 1 cup sugar 1 cup Spry 1 cup flour

Combine cherries, tapioca and sugar and let stand while pie crust is being made. Roll 1/2 of dough and line a 9-inch pie plate. Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Do with butter. Moisten edge of pie with water. Roll remaining dough for top crust and cut a few slits to permit steam to escape. Fill top crust over cherries and seal edge of pie. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 to 40 minutes.

Spry Pie Crust

1/2 cup cold water 1 egg 1 cup sugar 1 cup Spry 1 cup flour

No need to chill ingredients to get flaky crust with Spry. Sift flour and salt together. Add 1/2 of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as corn meal. (Take only a puff with triple-creamed Spry!) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of navy bean. Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. Work a little, work lightly together until a dough is formed.

(All measurements in this recipe are in cups)

Try Spry for lighter cakes, crispier fried foods, too

BEST BET—PRINCESS ANN, EIGHTH

TAUNTON, June 21—Princess Ann, garbed in the red blanket, in the eighth race at the Taunton dog track tonight, presents a waging hazard which should bring a safe return for his followers.

This one is a fast breaker and with nothing particularly dangerous beside her should make the first bend on the head end. From that point on it's safe for her.

In the co-favored ninth we give Joe Ayotte's Standard Cab a chance to retrieve itself for the miserable showing it made last week when it refused to leave the box at the spring.

This one has since schooled and should help to swell the Woonsocket dog lovers' purse account.

Mrs. Fabyan Advances in Court Tilt

Helen Jacobs Wins The Mightiest in Sports Often Fall

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 21 (AP)—Despite the handicap of an arm injury, Helen Jacobs, former British and American titleholder, easily defeated Mary Whitmarsh of England, 6-0, 6-1, in the first round of the all-England championships today.

Miss Jacobs, who has been suffering from an injury to a nerve in her right arm, indicated she was recovering rapidly by the manner in which she disposed of Miss Whitmarsh.

The former champion abandoned her chopped forehand strokes to experiment with a flat drive which proved effective.

DOROTHY WINS

Dorothy May Bundy, young Californian who holds the Australian singles crown, won her first round match from Miss P. N. Morrison of Great Britain, 6-2, 6-2.

Anita Lizana, the Chilean flash who holds the United States title, was eliminated by Mme. Rene Mathieu, veteran French champion, 6-1, 6-4, in the feature match of the first day.

Unable to get her hard first service under control and woefully weak with her second, Miss Lizana was outplayed all the way. It was the second year in succession that she had been eliminated from this tournament by Mme. Mathieu.

Alice Marble, another member of the American delegation, appeared to be in top form as she polished off Mary Coates of Alexandria, Va., in a second-round match, 6-0, 6-2.

The crowd frequently applauded the smashing drives of the blonde Californian.

MRS. FABYAN WINS

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Boston had no difficulty beating Miss G. Enay of Germany in a first-round match, 6-1, 6-3, but another seeded star, Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland, was carried to three sets before she disposed of Miss Stevenson of Australia, 6-1, 5-6, 6-3.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

FIRST ROUND

Dorothy May Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Miss P. N. Morrison, Great Britain, 6-2, 6-2.
Margaret Scriven, England, defeated Miss L. R. Jakes, Great Britain, 6-4, 6-4.

Miss J. Palfrey, Hungary, defeated Jean Mine, Canada, 6-2, 7-5.
Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, Boston, defeated Miss G. Enay, Germany, 6-1, 6-3.

Jadwiga Jedzejowska, Poland, beat Miss Stevenson, Australia, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

SECOND ROUND

Nancy Wynne, Australia, defeated Mrs. Joan Pittman, England, 6-2, 6-0.
Joan Mary Hawkes, England, defeated Joan Hartigan, Australia, 6-4, 6-2.

Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, defeated Anita Lizana, Chile, 6-1, 6-4.
Alice Marble, California, defeated Mary Coates, Alexandria, Va., 6-0, 6-2.

MEN'S DOUBLES

FIRST ROUND

Owen Anderson, Hollywood, Calif., and Fred St. John, Los Angeles, defeated J. E. J. King and M. Connors, Great Britain, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

G. F. Hughes and F. H. D. Wilde, England, defeated H. Gopfert and E. Koch, Germany, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Ladislav Hecht and Roderich Menzel, Czechoslovakia, defeated Bruce and Connery, Great Britain, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Ken S. Kim, China, and G. L. Rogers, Ireland, defeated C. M. Jones and M. D. Deirdorf, Britain, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

Victor Sharpe and R. Ritchie, England, beat Harreguy, Uruguay, and E. F. Williams, England, 6-3, 6-5, 6-3.

Pilby and Shayer, England, beat Russell and Elchart, Argentina, 6-4, 6-6, 6-6.

IT WAS CONSIDERED such a certainty that the American pair, Donald Budge and Gene Mako, regarded as the world's No. 1 doubles pair, would "walkaway" with the French championships that the French tennis fans stayed away from the game in thousands. But the miracle happened, and Budge and Mako went down to defeat in four sets. Here is the scene as the players left the court, the victorious Frenchmen leading. Left to right, Yvon Petra, Bernard Destreumeau, Gene Mako and Donald Budge.

Wilson Faces Tigers in 1st

Predict Career For 'Vandy'

By WALTER KILEY

More than one of the correspondents following the road fortunes of the Cincinnati Reds voice the opinion that Johnny Vander Meer's days as a top flight pitcher are numbered.

One competent critic from Cincy feels that Vandy's arm will be unable to bear the strain put on it with his every performance. He insists, the 23-year-old no-hit sensation, puts everything he has on every ball he pitches, and that no arm can withstand such punishment long.

He stresses the fact too, that Vander Meer throws almost twice as many pitches as the average hurler, the reason being that on one batter after another, he gets himself into the 3 and 2 hole.

These same parties will also tell you that the D u t c h m a n's presence on the Redlegs' mound at this time is due only to Lee Grissom's failure to round back into form after an operation for tonsils; that had Grissom been showing to normal advantage Vandy would have been farmed out before the present campaign had proceeded far on its way.

Be that as it may, it's still in the records that the youngster has won seven straight, eight in all, that his earned run average during his winning streak is just over the half-run per game mark, and that his opponents, including the Giants in three games, the Brooklyn Dodgers and Bees in two each, have managed to get only 22 hits off him, just over three per game.

Thoren Due To Click In Big Time

By BILL GRIMES

Along with Denny Shute, Bras Eurn, the defending champion, "Jug" McSpaden, Winchester, the unsuccessful finalist, and Tony Manero, Salem, our third and last automatic qualifier, New England will be represented by eight other pros in the coming Professional Golfers' Association championship at Shawnee-On-The-Delaware.

Johnny Thoren, of the home club, was the medalist in the New England Sectional qualifications at Woodland. He opened up with a 72, which put him in a seven way tie for fourth place, and then came back with a 70 for a 142.

NETTELBLADT IN

Although he has been playing in P. G. A. sectional qualifying rounds since he became eligible, Thoren never made the grade until this year.

And now that he has passed the stroke competition test, Thoren will give the big time pros a battle before they get him on the side lines at Shawnee-On-The-Delaware.

Thoren is a worthy opponent for any pro in the game at match play, and although his victories may be classified as upsets by those who are not familiar with his game, Johnny seems destined to remain at Jimmy Thomson's home courts beyond the half-way mark of the P. G. A. championship.

CROWLEY, HACKNEY OUT

Carl Nettelbladt, Framingham, who was eliminated in the P. G. A. titular event at Pittsburgh last year by Horton Smith, Jim Turnesa, Louisquisset, who has qualified three years in a row as well as for two years for the United States open; Edmund Burke, Newport, R. I.; Nick Gianfrante, Westboro, and Clyde Ustina, Unicorn, who made the grade on his debut in P. G. A. competition, posted 144's, two strokes behind Thoren.

Whenever a strange situation is destined to arise, it's a safe bet some member of the N. E. P. G. A. will be responsible for the brain twister.

After all scores had been posted, Johnny Corcoran announced that there would be a play-off. Guy Paulsen, Longmeadow, John Shimkonis, Andover, who was the New Paulsen sectional medalist a year ago at Metacom, and Dave Hackney, Yelper, were deadlocked with 145's. That trio was to have played off for two places.

With a good sized gallery waiting at the first tee and along the fairway, Hackney announced that he would withdraw from the play-off. His explanation was that, "If I can't qualify without a play-off, they can have the place."

So when Hackney withdrew, Paulsen and Shimkonis slipped under the wire, and the boys went into a huddle trying to fathom Hackney's line of reasoning.

There was only one real upset at Woodland, and that was the failure of Bobby Crowley, Norfolk, to qualify.

In the morning round, Crowley had led the field with a par-shattering round of 69. But in the afternoon his game slipped so far out of control that he popped up with an 80.

Adamick K. O. Under Fire

CHICAGO, June 21 (INS)—All those involved in the Jimmy Adamick-Jack Trammel boxing match here June 8 were under suspension in Illinois today.

The State Athletic Commission took that action after a three-hour inquiry into the bout, which saw Trammel, Akron, O., Negro, floor Adamick, Detroit heavyweight, in the second round and a moment later take the count himself after receiving what ringiders called "an invincible punch."

Dr. F. Allen Frankel, a judge at the fight, told the commission that Trammel "took a deliberate dive." Other officials expressed the opinion neither man had tried his best. The commission continued the hearing until July 3.

Baer Picks Louis

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—En route to New York to attend the Louis-Schmeling fight, Max Baer, former heavyweight champion and the only man who ever fought both principals of the forthcoming battle, said he believed Louis would retain the championship.

Li the former Louis-Schmeling battle, Baer favored Schmeling, the winner. Accompanying Baer to the East was Andy Hoffman, Baer's manager, who said he would seek a September bout for Baer with the winner of the fight.

Revise College Boxing Rules

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 21 (AP)—Determined to "take pugilism out of college boxing," members of the boxing committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association came here today to revise the rules to eliminate professionalism and assure amateurism.

The first formal session of the nine-member committee was scheduled for this afternoon at the Naval Academy boathouse.

Listed for consideration were general revision and adoption of new rules; the eligibility question, weighing-in for dual meets and tournaments, the NCAA's position on the Olympic boxing committee and allied subjects.

"Existing boxing rules are poorly written and in need of clarification," said Commodore O. O. Kensing, a committee member and navy's boxing representative.

"Our committee aspires to give added protection to boxers."

GRISSOM'S ARM GONE

Lou Fette has due cause to be off his teammates for life . . . They have been letting him down most of the year with the willow . . . So, yesterday, when they outdid the Reds, they came up with enough "bones" to hand the game to Cincinnati . . . Bill McKeehn is of the opinion that Lee Grissom's arm is gone . . . Tom Meany announced over the air that the Reds would be a threat to win the National League pennant if they had a fourth starting pitcher . . . He said McKeehn can start only Johnny Vander Meer, Paul Derringer and Ray "Peaches" Davis . . . Apparently, Tom hasn't been advised that one William Henry Walters, Jr. is now with Cincinnati . . . In the semifinals of the Metacom

Invitation, which, incidentally, they won, Ray Lenchan and Sam Neild, Jr. put together a better ball of 64 . . . Ray was 68 and the ex-hicest champion 69 . . . Glenna Collett Vare will summer at Ft. Judith and has agreed to play in three invitation tournaments . . . Carl Nettelbladt has been re-instated as an amateur . . . He will play from Green Hill and will bear watching in the state amateur championship . . . George

Lee Grissom, Kelly, the Reds coach, has Vin DiMaggio been pitching batting 1-2-3-4-5 all spring, but recently he played on the hilltop too long, and now he has the sorest arm in camp . . . Earl Maggett is developing his arm by pitching batting practice . . . Joe Walsh will make the next Western trip with the Reds if his knee continues to improve . . . Johnny Vander Meer has the ball which Debs Garmis hit for a single that broke his string . . . Lester Dunn, the pro at Winthrop, played a shot from a tree yesterday at Woodlawn . . . His iron off the 13th tee was pulled enough for his ball to come to rest in a crotch of a tree, which he climbed and banged the ball to the ground . . . Teddy Adams, the state caddy champion, is out of golf for some time to come . . . A playful friend tossed a heavy "No Parking" sign at him and broke his foot . . . Vince DiMaggio has a fine singing voice . . . If he could only hit . . . GRIMES.

Rising Sox Play Two In Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., June 21—Hotter than summer, which officially arrives today, the rollicking Red Sox open a four-game series with Mickey Cochrane's Tigers in a double header this afternoon.

Victorious in six out of seven starts in St. Louis and Chicago, the confounding Croninmen will do some important gaining if they can keep the pace through the engagement at Briggs Stadium.

Every game they can win here must pull them that much above the Yankees or that much nearer the Indians, as the world champions and pace-setters will be clashing at the same time in Cleveland.

The Monday breather was just what the doctor ordered for the Fenway flingers.

It made it possible for Manager Joe Cronin to have his ace, the left-handed Moe and Jack Wilson, ready to work against the Bengals and also against the Indians in the final series of the trip.

Wilson, who has already won two games on this trek as a result of a relief effort against the Browns and a nine-inning performance of merit against the White Sox, will step out in quest of his eighth win in one of today's games. His ace will be chased back Saturday in Cleveland.

The incomparable Grove, who has drawn far away from the rest of the major league mound field with his record of 17-1, will go tomorrow and again on Sunday next.

For today's second game, Leo "Lefty" Rogers, young southpaw, will get the nod.

A side attraction in the Tigers' engagement, which is creating no little interest is the presence of the three top rivals in the major league home run race on the same field.

Boston's Jimmy Fox is No. 1 man with 19 round-trippers to his credit. Next in line come the Tigers' Rudy York and "Hank" Greenberg with 17 and 16, respectively. The Fenway fence-batter, who is also setting a record breaking pace in knocking in runs, has hit only one homer in seven games since leaving home, but the chances are better than even that he'll break out in another rash of circuit drives in these four games. For, next to Fenway Park, the left field barrier at Briggs Stadium is the easiest in the league to clear.

That's the answer to Fox, York and Greenberg being one, two, three in the race.

U. S. Fires Aliens in Spy Purge

Drastic "spy purge" measures taken in Boston and New England today threw new and startling light on the widespread anti-espionage campaign launched by the federal government.

The campaign here was spurred by newly revealed New York indictments of German secret agents.

Today's Boston development was an order issued by Captain George E. Eaton, superintendent of U. S. Lighthouse District No. 2 that all alien employees of the lighthouse service in this area be dismissed June 30.

ARMY, NAVY ACT

Exceptions were granted in cases of aliens who had applied for citizenship prior to April 27.

Announcement of the lighthouse service's move to rid itself of possible spy suspects was paralleled by revelation of similar moves under way in the First Corp Army Area and the First Naval District, both with headquarters here.

Officers of the intelligence departments of both army and navy have been engaged for weeks, it was learned, in an intensive check-up of civilian employees at the navy yard, the army base and other ad-

Till death do us---join!

Edward O. Kenney, Reading rubber manufacturer, died suddenly of a heart attack a week ago today.

His heartbroken wife, Ruth, comrade for more than a quarter century, told friends:

"I can't live without him."

Many widows have said that but Mrs. Kenney spoke the truth.

Today, in Reading, she leaped in front of a Boston & Maine train and was ground to death.

Positive identification of the body was made possible by only one means—the plain gold wedding ring engraved: E. O. K. to R. C.

The Kenney home is in Berkeley street, Reading. Formerly the family lived in Lowell. There are two sons, Edward O., Jr., 26, and John, 22.

Kenney's death last Tuesday severely affected the neurotic condition for which his wife was already under treatment.

Early today she left her home and made her way to a clump of bushes beside the Dustin street grade crossing of the railroad east of Reading Highlands station.

Engineer Timothy F. Leighton of the 7:35 Haverhill local out of Boston first glimpsed her as she jumped from behind the bushes into the path of his thundering locomotive. There was no chance to stop the train.

Dr. Roscoe D. Perley of Melrose, medical examiner, pronounced the death a suicide.

Schuschnigg May Soon Be Exiled

VIENNA, June 21 (AP)—A high Austrian official said today that the Gestapo (state police) investigation of Kurt Schuschnigg was almost completed and that the former chancellor of Austria might be permitted soon to go into exile in Italy.

It was understood that Mussolini was among a number of foreign statesmen who pleaded with Hitler to spare Schuschnigg, detained by Nazi authorities since the annexation of Austria March 13.

Stocks Again Push Higher

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Profit selling barely dented the rallying armor of today's stock market, and leading industrials pushed up fractions to more than $3.

There were a few wide gains. Among these were Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak, up $10 and $5, respectively, at the best, on small turnovers.

Steele, motors, coppers and specialties were conspicuously favored.
